

1 Waverly Court

G-39

(1999) Glassman Shoemake Maldonado

Architects Carrie Glassman Shoemake and Ernesto Maldonado gave Waverly Court, another sedate 1920s enclave, a definitive edge when they replaced architect David Baer's sadly mutilated 50s modern house with a low-key tower house fronted by a wildly exploded, expressionist stair tower faced with zinc and aluminum-coated steel siding.